

MEDIEVAL STUDIES IS PLEASED TO WELCOME

Professor Bruce Holsinger (University of Virginia)
to speak on “Archive of the Animal”

Professor Holsinger, eminent medievalist, musician and theoretician, will explore the parchment legacy of the medieval western world, considering the way this massive archive speaks (theologically, ethically, historically) to human-animal relations across time and space.

PLEASE JOIN US FOR TWO EXCITING EVENTS WITH PROFESSOR HOLSINGER ON THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16:

3-4 PM: OPEN SEMINAR ON CAROLYN DINSHAW'S
CHAUCER'S SEXUAL POETICS, TRIBBLE A209

5PM: “ARCHIVE OF THE ANIMAL,” DE TAMBLE,
TRIBBLE HALL

Bruce Holsinger is Professor of English and Director of the Program in Medieval Studies at the University of Virginia. His books include Music, Body, and Desire in Medieval Culture (Stanford 2001), The Premodern Condition: Medievalism and the Making of Theory (Chicago 2005), and Neomedievalism, Neoconservatism, and the War on Terror (Chicago, 2007)

Refreshments will be served following the lecture.

Please come and encourage your students to attend.

Email Rachael Deagman (deagmarn@wfu.edu) for links to the seminar readings.