

Scholarships and Loans

*ANY STUDENT REGULARLY ADMITTED TO WAKE FOREST COLLEGE WHO DEMONSTRATES FINANCIAL NEED
WILL RECEIVE ASSISTANCE
COMMENSURATE WITH THAT NEED.*

By regulation of the Board of Trustees, all financial aid must be approved by the Committee on Scholarships and Student Aid. The financial aid program comprises institutional, state, and federal scholarship, loan, and work funds. Aid applicants must be enrolled as undergraduates or accepted for admission. Full-time students are eligible to apply for institutional funds; other degree-seeking students are eligible to apply for federal funds. For financial aid purposes, full-time enrollment is defined as twelve or more hours each semester. A number of scholarships are based upon merit; need is a factor in the awarding of most financial aid. The annual calculation of need, and therefore the amount of an award, may vary from year to year.

Additional scholarship assistance not listed herein is offered to student athletes through the Department of Athletics and is governed by NCAA rules. The Committee may revoke financial aid for unsatisfactory academic performance, for violation of University regulations including its honor code, or for violations of federal, state, or local laws. IRS Publication 970 describes the possible taxability of scholarship assistance.

Policy on Satisfactory Academic Progress for Financial Aid Eligibility

Evaluation of students' satisfactory academic progress for purposes of financial aid eligibility is made annually at the end of the second summer session by the Committee on Scholarships and Student Aid, to determine eligibility for the following academic year. Evaluation is also made upon students' readmittance.

Institutional Financial Aid

The receipt of institutionally-controlled financial aid requires full-time enrollment (twelve or more hours) during the fall and spring semesters and a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.00 on work attempted in the undergraduate schools of the University. Institutional aid generally is not awarded for summer sessions. Institutional aid is not awarded beyond the eighth (fall or spring) semester; this limit is prorated for transfer students. Certain institutional aid programs have higher academic and/or other requirements, which are communicated to recipients.

Federal Financial Aid

The Higher Education Act mandates that institutions of higher education establish minimum standards of satisfactory academic progress for students receiving federal financial aid. Wake Forest University makes these minimum standards applicable to all programs funded by the federal government. Certain federal aid programs have higher academic and/or other requirements, which are communicated to recipients.

To maintain academic eligibility for federal financial aid, a student must:

Complete the requirements for a bachelor's degree within the maximum number of hours attempted of 168 (including transfer hours, but excluding advanced placement hours). This limit is the same for all students pursuing a bachelor's degree, including those students enrolled in joint bachelor's/master's degree programs. During a semester in which a student drops courses or withdraws, the maximum number of hours attempted includes those hours attempted as of the earlier of (1) the withdrawal date, or (2) the last day to drop a course without penalty (as published in the academic calendar).

Pass at least two-thirds of those hours attempted during each academic year in the undergraduate schools of the University (including pass/fail courses, and hours attempted as a visiting or unclassified student). The academic year begins with the fall semester and concludes with the second summer session. Incompletes count as hours attempted, unless from a non-credit course. Audited classes do not count as hours attempted. During a semester in which a student drops courses or withdraws, hours attempted include those hours attempted as of the earlier of (1) the withdrawal date, or (2) the last day to drop a course without penalty (as published in the academic calendar). For purposes of this policy, hours attempted also include all instances in which a course is repeated.

Maintain the following minimum cumulative Wake Forest University grade point average on all graded hours attempted in the undergraduate schools of the University (including incompletes from graded courses, but excluding pass/fail courses):

For graded hours attempted...a minimum GPA of

fewer than 30	1.45
at least 30, fewer than 60	1.60
at least 60, fewer than 90	1.75
90 and above	1.90

Thus, for example, a regular full-time student taking the normal fifteen hours of graded coursework each semester must achieve a minimum cumulative Wake Forest grade point average of 1.45 before the second year, 1.60 before the third year, and 1.75 before the fourth year.

In cases where a student repeats a course for which he or she has received a grade of C- or lower, the cumulative grade point average is calculated by considering the course as attempted only once, with the grade points assigned reflecting the highest grade received. However, this provision does not apply to any course for which the student has received the grade of F in consequence of an honor violation. During a semester in which a student drops courses or withdraws, all graded hours attempted in the undergraduate schools of the University include those graded hours attempted as of the earlier of (1) the withdrawal date, or (2) the last day to drop a course without penalty (as published in the academic calendar).

The policy of satisfactory academic progress applies only to the general eligibility for financial aid consideration. There are other federally-mandated requirements a student must meet to receive federal financial aid. For instance, certain federal loan programs also require either the passage of a period of time or the advancing of a grade level between annual maximum borrowing, regardless of general eligibility for aid. Other general student eligibility requirements for a student to receive federal financial aid are listed in Funding Education Beyond High School: The Guide to Federal Student Aid, a publication of the U.S. Department of Education.

Denial of aid under this policy may be appealed in writing to the Committee on Scholarships and Student Aid and mailed to PO Box 7246, Winston-Salem, NC 27109-7246, or delivered to the Office of Student Financial Aid, Reynolda Hall Room 4. The Committee may grant a probationary reinstatement of one semester (in exceptional cases this period may be for one full academic year) to any student, upon demonstration of extenuating circumstances documented in writing to the satisfaction of the Committee.

Examples of extenuating circumstances and appropriate documentation include, but are not necessarily limited to the following: illness of the student or immediate family members—statement from physician that illness interfered with opportunity for satisfactory progress; death in family—statement from student or minister; temporary or permanent disability—statement from physician.

During a probationary period, students are considered to be making satisfactory academic progress under this policy and may continue to receive aid. A determination of satisfactory academic progress for any period of enrollment after the probationary period is made, upon the student's written request, at the end of the probationary period. Reinstatement after probation can be made only after the student has received credit for the appropriate percentage of work attempted with the required grade point average. Any student determined ineligible for any academic year may request a special review at the end of one semester or summer term and may thereby be reinstated for all or part of the academic year. The student must request any such mid-year review in writing; otherwise only one determination of satisfactory academic progress will be made each academic year. Reinstatement cannot be made retroactive.

Federal Financial Aid Programs

The federal government, through the Department of Education, sponsors a number of aid programs for education. Among these programs are Federal Pell Grants; Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants; Academic Competitiveness Grants; National Science & Mathematics Access to Retain Talent Grants; Teacher Education Assistance for College & Higher Education Grants; Federal Work-Study; Federal Perkins Loans; and Federal Family Education Loans (including Federal Stafford Loans, both subsidized and unsubsidized, and PLUS Loans).

To receive assistance through these programs, a student must complete the necessary applications, meet basic eligibility requirements, and maintain satisfactory academic progress.

Federal aid programs are described more fully in the Wake Forest University brochure “Undergraduate Need-Based Aid Information,” and in the federal publication Funding Education Beyond High School: The Guide to Federal Student Aid, available upon request from the student financial aid office.

Loans

The James W. Denmark Loan, established in 1875, assists qualified students.

The Hutchins Student Loan assists needy students.

The Grover & Addy Raby Loan gives preference to applicants from the First Baptist Church of Tarboro, NC.

The Sidney G. Wallace Loan gives preference to students studying at a Wake Forest-sponsored or approved overseas program.

Other Aid Programs

Children and spouses of pastors of North Carolina Baptist churches receive an annual $800 concession if they are the children or spouses of (1) ministers, (2) missionaries of the International Missions Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, (3) officials of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, or (4) professors in North Carolina Baptist colleges or universities who are ordained ministers. Pastors themselves are also eligible.

Children of other ministers who are not eligible for the prior concession receive an annual $150 concession if their parents make a living chiefly by the ministry and they have demonstrated need.

Church Volunteer Scholarships of $200 per semester assist students wishing to mentor with a church near the Wake Forest campus. Application is made through the associate University chaplain.

Ministerial students receive an annual $800 concession if they (1) have a written recommendation or license to preach from their own church body and (2) agree to repay the total amount, plus four percent interest, in the event they do not serve five years in the pastoral ministry within twelve years of attendance in the College.

The North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grant (NCLTG) is provided by the North Carolina General Assembly for students who are residents of North Carolina for the purpose of tuition payment under the terms of the Residency Manual of the University of North Carolina. Generally, these are students who, along with their parents, have been legal residents of North Carolina for at least twelve months prior to enrollment at Wake Forest. Certain other categories of students may also be eligible, including children of military personnel with North Carolina residency status who live out of state, residents who live near the state border, or residents who have recently moved out of state. Residency determinations are made by the aid office. Grants are reduced by twenty-five percent for those students having already completed 140 hours. Reduced grant awards may be available for part-time students. Amounts on award letters are estimates, based on students' expected enrollment levels, and are subject to adjustment when the actual authorized grant is determined. Students are responsible for any difference between the estimated and actual amounts.

Grant amounts are based on students' enrollment levels through October 1 in the fall semester and through the tenth day of classes in the spring semester. To be eligible each semester, a student must maintain satisfactory academic progress for federal aid eligibility, and have not received or qualified for a bachelor's degree. A student in the last year of the MS in accountancy program is not eligible for the grant. In addition, a student must not be enrolled in a program of study the objective of which is the attainment of a degree in theology, divinity or religious education, or in any other program of study that is designated by Wake Forest primarily for career preparation in a religious vocation. Students (including those studying abroad) must submit an NCLTG application to the aid office by the end of the first week of classes of their first semester of each academic year. There are no exceptions to this deadline; students who are otherwise eligible but who fail to submit a timely application cannot receive NCLTG funding.

The online application is made available by the state each year during the summer. Once available, students should download (from www.wfu.edu/finaid/forms.html), print, complete, sign, and return prior to the application deadline the NCLTG application to the Office of Student Financial Aid, P.O. Box 7246, Winston-Salem, NC 27109-7246.

Student employment is possible for part-time, on-campus and off-campus work, for a recommended maximum of twenty hours per week for full-time students. Summer employment may also be available. Interested students should contact the student financial aid office. Federal funding assists Wake Forest in its job location and development activities for students.

Veterans' education benefits are administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs in the Federal Building at 251 North Main Street in Winston-Salem. Records of progress are kept by Wake Forest University on veteran and non-veteran students alike. Progress records are furnished to the students, veterans, and non-veterans alike, at the end of each scheduled school term.

Outside Assistance

Wake Forest encourages students to apply for outside assistance for which they may be eligible. Students must advise the financial aid office if they receive any assistance from outside organizations, including any local, state, and national scholarship and loan programs. When need calculated under the federal methodology (FM need) is greater than the offered aid package, outside scholarships are allowed to meet that difference. Once the offered aid package equals FM need, any portion of outside scholarship exceeding FM need generally results in an adjustment of need-based grant and self-help funds in equal portions. Recipients of scholarships meeting full need, such as Brown, Carswell, Hankins, and Heritage, have their awards adjusted by one-half the value of outside scholarships. In no case may aid exceed the estimated cost of attendance.

Outside scholarship donors should include on the check the recipient's name and the term(s) for which the scholarship is intended. Checks should be payable to Wake Forest University (or co-payable to Wake Forest University and the student) and sent to the Office of Student Financial Aid, P.O. Box 7246, Winston-Salem, NC 27109-7246. Checks delivered by donors to the student should be forwarded to the aid office. By submitting, or allowing donors to submit, checks to Wake Forest, a student gives permission for Wake Forest to write the Wake Forest University student identification number on the face of the check.
