

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY

Welcome!

The staff of Wake Forest University Student Health Service cares about you and your health. Our staff of physicians, psychiatrists, physician assistant, nurse practitioner, pharmacist, laboratory technologist, nurses, health educator, receptionist, cashier and administrative staff is dedicated to meeting your health care needs. Health education resources are available regarding a variety of issues, including nutrition, stress management, substance abuse, and learning about and practicing appropriate self-care. We look forward to serving your health needs.

Our Mission

The mission of the Student Health Service of Wake Forest University is to promote and maintain the health of the University's students by modifying or removing health-related barriers to learning. This goal can be met by helping students obtain the skills necessary to remain healthy throughout life. The Health Service, in cooperation with other University and community resources, embraces a comprehensive approach involving health education, health maintenance, acute care, appropriate care of chronic illnesses and referral assistance. The result will be students who understand how to make informed decisions about their health and thus are able to be self-directed towards optimal wellness. The foundation of this mission is the staff, whose concern and understanding are measured by its competence and dedication.

Confidentiality

Medical information and records are strictly confidential. Information or records are not released to University officials, friends or family members without the student's permission. In addition, information will not be shared with therapists or physicians who are not involved in the student's immediate care without the student's permission.

Primary Care

The primary care clinic is open for appointments Monday through Friday for routine health care. Call 758.5218 for an appointment. We are located in the George C. Mackie Health Center, lower right level of Reynolds Gymnasium.

Urgent Care (24 hours during fall and spring semesters)

Urgent treatment is available at the SHS during the hours of operation. University Police can be called to transport students to the Health Service in an emergency. Students who have illnesses or injuries which cannot be managed in the Health Service are referred to WFU Baptist Medical Center or Forsyth Medical Center. These students are transported by friends, taxi or ambulance to the referred hospital.

Observation (24 hours during fall and spring semesters)

A 24-hour two-bed observation unit is maintained for students with problems that cannot be managed by ambulatory or home care but who do not require hospitalization in a general care hospital. A physician is “on call” at all times when the observation unit is open.

Pharmacy

A pharmacy is provided for the purchase of prescription and over-the-counter medications. Prescriptions may be filled from on-campus and off-campus physicians with certain formulary restrictions. The pharmacy does not accept third-party insurance cards but does provide a receipt that students may submit to their insurance for reimbursement.

Laboratory

The SHS laboratory is a “CLIA Certified Moderately Complex Medical Laboratory” providing in-house testing and specimen collection for referral to a reference laboratory. Tests are ordered by SHS providers or by the student’s family physician with SHS approval.

Allergy Injections

Allergy injections are available at the SHS by appointment. Students must provide specific written instructions from their allergist. Allergy injections are given only when a physician is on the premises.

Immunizations

Wake Forest University and North Carolina state law (G.S. 130A-152) require documentation of certain immunizations for students attending a North Carolina college or university. Students must submit certification of these immunizations prior to registration. Documentation should be on the Wake Forest University Student Health Service Health Information Summary Form. Vaccines for travel and routine preventative care are available by appointment.

Travel Consultations

Students planning to study or travel abroad should contact the Travel Clinic for current information about immunizations and other health issues in specific areas. Additional information is available on the SHS Web site or call 758.5218, option 3.

Health Education and Wellness

The Health Education Office’s primary focus is on health promotion and prevention of health-related problems. The office, located in 332 Benson, provides individual consultations on topics such as nutrition, disordered eating, substance use/abuse, stress management and sexual health issues. The office also:

- Provides training for the Peer Health Educators (HES 201 and HES 202)
- Maintains a Web site (www.wfu.edu/healthed) and provides educational materials throughout campus
- Provides programs on health-related topics for the campus community

Sports Medicine

Specialists in the care of bone, joint or muscle injuries, and/or medical problems related to exercise or athletics, are available at SHS by appointment on Tuesday afternoons during the fall and spring semesters. Visits are billed by Wake Forest University Physicians and are the responsibility of the student receiving care. Call 758.5218, option 0, for an appointment.

Psychiatry

Psychiatric consultations are available. Call SHS at 758.5218, option 0, or the University Counseling Center at 758.5273 for a referral.

Eligibility

All students who have paid tuition are eligible for treatment. Family members of students are not eligible.

Student Health Service Fee

An annual operations fee of $316 is charged to all full-time Reynolda Campus students except the Babcock evening and executive programs. If you have questions, contact Student Financial Services at 336.758.5234 or fas-ar@wfu.edu.

Health Insurance

University policy requires that all students have health insurance. Information about the student group insurance plan is available online, www.wfu.edu/shs or www.uhcsr.com. Students are strongly encouraged to review their current plan to assure adequate coverage.

Service Charges

There are no charges for services of staff physicians. A charge will be made for injections, prescriptions, laboratory tests, medical supplies, travel consultations and special physical examinations. There is an hourly charge for room and board up to $225 a day in the Observation Unit plus additional charges for supplies, laboratory tests and medications. Payment may be made by cash, check, Deacon OneCard or posted to the student's account in Office of Financial and Accounting Services. A receipt is given for students to file for reimbursement from their insurance company. Student Health does not file claims for insurance. When a student is referred to a specialist outside the Health Service, or when a student is referred for x-rays or special laboratory tests outside the Health Service, all costs, including transportation, must be assumed by the student.

Student Health Advisory Committee (SHAC)

The Student Health Advisory Committee is a student organization that represents students' interests in the SHS. SHAC is charged with maintaining vital connections between the programs, services and policies of SHS and the student body. The organization meets monthly to coordinate programs, outreach and address current issues in student health. If you are interested in serving on SHAC or have questions, call 758.5218, option 0.

Wake Forest Emergency Response Team (WFERT)

WFERT is a student organization of Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) and other volunteers who serve as first responders to on-campus calls for emergency care. They are sponsored by the Student Health Service, work collaboratively with University Police and the Facilities Management Safety Response Team, and are supervised by the Forsyth County Emergency Medical Services. The squad also performs special projects to increase the WFU community's health and basic life support awareness. Contact Student Health for more information.

Peer Health Education

Peer Health Educators is an organization consisting of trained student volunteers who provide educational and awareness programs to the campus community and/or student organizations. Programs offered include contraception, sexually transmitted diseases, nutrition, eating disorders, and drugs and alcohol. Students interested in becoming a Peer Health Educator should contact the health educator at 758.5937.

Class Excuses

The health service does not issue statements or excuses for class attendance.
